The all new PTT over cellular handset with desktop dispatcher software is a product aimed at improving communications, management and the safety of field based teams and lone workers across any industry.

900PTT is Ninehundred Communications Push To Talk (PTT) product that enables your workers to keep in constant touch with the office as well as each other by combining the benefits of two way radio with the flexibility and vast coverage provided by the cellular networks.

Push To Talk Services are ideal for any business or organisation where employees need to stay in regular and close contact with each other and are an efficient way for businesses to communicate with remote workforces.

With no need to dial telephone numbers, 900PTT offers fast and efficient real time communications tools which are simple to use, offering instant communication at the push of a button either on a one-to-one basis or as a broadcast to a group of people either from the handsets or the dispatcher software. Tailored to your needs, Push To Talk technology can offer huge benefits over standard mobile phones.

900PTT gives you the freedom to take your valuable group communications services with you wherever you or your team need to operate. This product also integrates seamlessly with a Desktop Dispatcher Software so that office-based users can keep in contact with field based staff using a PC utilising these products to their potential.
A PTT (push to talk) over cellular handset with the connectivity of dispatcher console software and the functionality of: Lone worker, call and messaging logs, alarm handling, group calls, pre-set messages, job ticketing and more...
